

Nigel Johnston

CEO and Founder, BComm and a Masters of Applied Finance

Founder & CEO of QualityTrade, IAF Database Management Committee participant for the International Accreditation Forum (IAF)

Nigel Founded QualityTrade a technology company which creates software exclusively for the accredited network to improve integrity and value of accredited certification. QualityTrade has worked with accreditation bodies since 2013 and more recently with the IAF developing the world's first global database for accredited certifications and the world's first trade marketplace for certified companies which includes over 1 million trade opportunities. Nigel's passion is helping businesses and governments develop certified supply chains which have a positive economic, environmental and social impact.

Prior to QualityTrade Nigel held the role of CEO at URM Group, a multinational environmental services organization. Nigel has worked at some of the leading Private Equity firms including Actis, the world's largest emerging markets firm.
